In the preparation of this Year Book the original applications in the custody of the Registrar have been carefully transcribed and examined and it is hoped that the Roster of Members giving the services of the Ancestors under whom they claim is accurate.

It was thought that a complete list of the members of the Convention which framed the first Constitution of the State of Maryland; of the members of the several Councils of Safety of the Province of Maryland, and of the Delegates from Maryland to the Continental Congress, inasmuch as they have never been published in this form, would be both useful and interesting.

For the portraits the Society is indebted to Henry F. Thompson, Esquire, and the Officers hope that those members who have portraits of their ancestors will give them for the next Year Book.

The date upon the title page is the one hundred and eighteenth anniversary of the day on which the first General Assembly of Maryland convened.

The Registrar gladly avails of this opportunity to acknowledge his obligations to William Mozart Hayden and William Hall Harris, Esquires, for the assistance they have so frequently and kindly afforded him in the performance of his duties.

Mr. John Fox

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

NAME OF SOCIETY.

The Society shall be known by the name, style and title of "Society of Sons of the Revolution in the State of Maryland, of Baltimore City."

ARTICLE II.

OBJECTS.

The objects of the Society are social, educational and patriotic, and the Society is formed for the particular purpose of perpetuating the memory of the men who in military, naval and civil service of the Colonies and of the Continental Congress, by their acts or counsel, achieved the Independence of the Country ; and to further the proper celebration of the anniversaries of the birthday of Washington, and prominent events connected with the War of the Revolution ; to collect and secure for preservation the manuscripts, records and other documents relating to that period ; to inspire the members of the Society with the patriotic spirit of their forefathers ; and to promote the feeling of fellowship among its members.

ARTICLE III.

MEMBERSHIP.

Any male person, above the age of twenty-one years, shall be eligible to membership in this Society who is descended from an ancestor, as the propositus, who, either as a military, naval or marine officer, soldier, sailor, or marine, or official in the service of any one of the thirteen original Colonies or States, or of the National Government representing or composed of those Colonies or States, assisted in establishing American Independence during the War of the Revolution, between the 19th day of April, 1775, when hostilities commenced, and the 19th day of April, 1783, when they were ordered to cease.

Provided: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor in the "minute men" or "militia," it must be satisfactorily shown that such ancestor was actually called into the service of the State or United States, and performed garrison or field duty; and

Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as a "sailor" or "marine," it must in like manner be shown that such service was other than shore duty and regularly performed in the Continental Navy, or the Navy of one of the original thirteen States, or on an armed vessel, other than a merchant ship, which sailed under letters of marque and reprisal, and that such ancestor of the applicant was duly enrolled in the ship's company, either as an officer, seaman, or otherwise than as a passenger; and

Provided further: That when the claim of eligibility is based on the service of an ancestor as an "official," such service must have been performed in the civil service of the United States, or of one of the thirteen original States, and must have been sufficiently important in character to have rendered the official specially liable to arrest and imprisonment, the same as a combatant, if captured by the enemy, as well as liable to conviction of treason against the Government of Great Britain.

In the construction of this Article, the Volunteer Aides de Camp of General Officers in Continental Service, who were duly announced as such and who actually served in the field during a campaign, shall be comprehended as having performed qualifying service.

The civil officials and military forces of the State of Vermont, during the War of the Revolution, shall also be comprehended in the same manuer as if they had belonged to one of the thirteen original States.

No service of an ancestor shall be deemed as qualifying service for membership in this Society where such ancestor, after assisting in the cause of American Independence, shall have subsequently either adhered to the enemy, or failed to maintain an honorable record throughout the War of the Revolution.

No person shall be admitted as a member of this Society unless he be eligible under one of the provisions of this Article, and unless of good moral character and adjudged worthy of becoming a member.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS.

The officers of the Society shall be a President, a Vice-President, a Secretary, a Registrar, a Treasurer and a Chaplain, who shall be chosen by ballot from among the members thereof, annually to serve for the term of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE V.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

The Board of Managers of the Society shall be twelve in number, namely: the President, the Vice-President, the Secretary, the Registrar and the Treasurer, ex officio, and seven others who shall be chosen by ballot from among the members of the Society annually to serve for the term of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The Board shall have power to fill vacancies occurring in their own number.

ARTICLE VI.

ADMISSION OF MEMBERS.

Every application for membership shall be made in writing, subscribed by the applicant, and approved by two members over their signatures. Applications shall contain, or be accompanied by, proof of eligibility, and such applications and proofs shall be submitted to the Board of Managers, who shall have full power to determine the qualifications of the applicant.

Payment of the initiation fee and subscription to the declaration required by the Constitution of this Society shall be pre-requisites of membership.

ARTICLE VII.

DECLARATION.

Every member shall declare upon honor that he will endeavor to promote the purposes of this Institution and observe the "Constitution" and "By-Laws" of this Society, and, if he be a citizen of the United States, shall declare that he will support the Constitution of the United States. Such declaration shall be in writing, and subscribed by the member making it.

ARTICLE VIII.

SUBJECTS PROHIBITED.

No question involving religious doctrine or the party politics of the day within the United States shall ever be discussed or considered in any meeting of this Society.

ARTICLE IX.

COMMEMORATIONS.

It shall be a standing regulation that the members shall, when practicable, hold a commemorative celebration and dine together at least once in every year.

ARTICLE X.

SEAL AND INSIGNIA.

The Seal of the Society, the Insignia to be worn by members, and the rules governing the use of the latter, shall be such as are, or may be hereafter prescribed by the General Society of the Sons of the Revolution.

The Secretary shall be the custodian of the Seal.

The Treasurer of the Society shall procure and issue the Insignia to the members, and shall keep a record of all issued by him. Such Insignia shall be returned to the Treasurer by any member who may formally withdraw, resign or be expelled, but otherwise shall be deemed an heirloom.

No member shall receive more than one badge, unless to replace one, the loss or destruction of which shall first be satisfactorily established. The badge shall never be worn as an article of jewelry.

On occasions other than meetings for any stated purpose or celebration, members may wear a rosette of the prescribed ribbon and pattern in the upper button-hole of the left lapel of the coat. The Treasurer shall procure and issue the rosettes to members.

ARTICLE XI.

ALTERATIONS AND AMENDMENTS.

No alterations or amendments of the Constitution of this Society shall be made unless notice thereof be duly given in writing, signed by the member proposing the same, at a meeting of the Society, and unless the same shall be adopted at a subsequent meeting held at least thirty days after such notice, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, and in the notices issued for such meeting the fact shall be stated that a proposed amendment to the Constitution will be considered.

BY-LAWS.

SECTION I.

FEES, DUES AND CONTRIBUTIONS.

The initiation fee shall be five (5) dollars; the annual dues three (3) dollars, payable on or before the first day of February in every year: Provided, that any member who shall have been elected during the last three months of the fiscal year shall not be required to pay the annual dues for the current fiscal year. The payment at one time of fifty (50) dollars shall constitute a life membership. The payment at one time of one hundred (100) dollars shall constitute a perpetual or endowed membership, and upon the death of the member so paying, the membership shall be held by his eldest son, or such other descendant from the ancestor from whom he claims as he may nominate; in failure of such nomination, the Society may decide which one of the descendants shall hold the membership: Provided always, that the Society reserves to itself the privilege of rejecting any nomination that may not be acceptable to it. All those holding life or endowed memberships shall be exempt from the payment of the initiation fee and annual dues.

SECTION II.

PERMANENT FUND.

All initiation, life and endowed membership fees, as well as donations which shall be paid the Society, shall remain forever to the use of the Society as a Permanent Fund, the income only of which may be expended.

SECTION III.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Society shall be held in the City of Baltimore on the 15th day of March (except when that day is a Sunday, the meeting shall be held on the next ensuing day), at which a general election of officers and managers by ballot shall take place. In such election a majority of the ballots given for any officer or manager shall constitute a choice ; but if, on the first ballot, no person shall receive such majority, then a further balloting shall take place, in which a plurality of votes given for any officer or manager shall determine the choice.

SECTION IV.

QUORUM.

At all meetings of the Society ten (10) members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

SECTION V.

PRESIDENT.

The President, or in his absence the Vice-President, or in the absence of both a chairman pro tempore, shall preside at all meetings of the Society, and shall have a casting vote. He shall preserve order, and decide all questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Society.

SECTION VI.

SECRETARY.

The Secretary shall conduct the general correspondence of the Society. He shall notify all members of their election, and of such other matters as may be required by the Society. He shall have charge of the Seal, Certificate of Incorporation, Constitution, By-Laws and Records of the Society, and shall issue certificates of membership. He, together with the presiding officer, shall certify all acts of the Society and in proper cases authenticate them under seal. He shall affix the Seal to all properly authenticated certificates of membership and transmit them without delay to the members for whom they shall be issued. He shall, under the direction of the President or Vice-President, give due notice of the time and place of all meetings of the Society and attend the same. He shall keep fair and accurate records of all the proceedings and orders of the Society, and shall give notice to the several officers of all votes, orders, resolves and proceedings of the Society affecting them or appertaining to their respective duties. He shall be Secretary of the Board of Managers and keep the record of their meetings in the regular minute book of the Society.

SECTION VII.

TREASURER.

The Treasurer shall collect and keep the funds and securities of the Society; and so often as those funds shall amount to one hundred (100) dollars, they shall be deposited in some bank or banking house to be designated by the Board of Managers, to the credit of "Society of Sons of the Revolution in the State of Maryland," and shall be drawn thence on the check of the Treasurer for the purposes of the Society only. Out of these funds he shall pay such sums as may be ordered by the Society, or by the Board of Managers. He shall keep a true account of his receipts and payments, and at each annual meeting, render a statement of the same to the Society, when a committee shall be appointed to audit his accounts.

He shall give such security as may from time to time be required by the Board of Managers.

SECTION VIII.

REGISTRAR.

The Registrar shall keep a roll of members, and in his hands shall be lodged all the proofs of membership qualification, and all the historical and other papers of which the Society may become possessed; and he, under the direction of the Board of Managers, shall make copies of such similar documents as the owners thereof may not be willing to leave permanently in the keeping of the Society. He, if practicable, shall be a member of the Maryland Historical Society.

SECTION IX.

CHAPLAIN.

The Chaplain shall be a regularly ordained minister of a Christian denomination, and shall perform such duties as ordinarily appertain to such office.

SECTION X.

HISTORIAN.

The Board of Managers shall have power annually to appoint an Historian, who shall keep a detailed record, to be deposited with the Registrar, of all the historical and commemorative celebrations of the Society; and he shall edit and prepare for publication such addresses, essays, papers and other documents of an historical character, (other than a Register of members), as the Secretary may be required to publish; and at every annual meeting, if there be a necrological list for the year then closing, he shall submit the same with carefully prepared biographies of the deceased members.

SECTION XI.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

The Board of Managers shall judge of the qualifications of every candidate who shall make proper application for admission to the Society, and shall have power to admit him to membership if found eligible under the constitution. Three negative votes shall constitute a rejection of the applicant.

They may, through the Secretary, call special meetings of the Society at such times as they may see fit, and shall call such meetings at any time upon the written request of ten members of the Society. They may also arrange for commemorative celebrations by the Society.

They shall recommend plans for promoting the purposes of the Society, and authorize the disbursement and expenditure of unappropriated money in the treasury for the payment of the current expenses of the Society. At each annual meeting of the Society they shall make a report in writing.

SECTION XII.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

At all meetings of the Society and of the Board of Managers the following order of business shall be observed so far as the same may be applicable.

1. Reading of minutes of prior meetings not previously acted upon.
2. Election of Officers and Managers when necessary.
3. Reports of Officers.
4. Reports of Committees.
5. Unfinished business.
6. Miscellaneous business.

SECTION XIII.

COMMITTEE ON ADMISSIONS.

The Chairman of the Board of Managers shall appoint annually three members thereof as a Committee on Admissions, whose duty it shall be to pass upon the qualifications of applicants for admission to the Society, and report to the Board of Managers.

SECTION XIV.

EXPULSION AND SUSPENSION.

The Board of Managers shall have power to expel any enrolled member of this Society who, by conduct unbecoming a gentleman and a man of honor, or by an opposition to the interests of the Community in general or of this Society in particular, may render himself unworthy to continue a member, or who shall persistently transgress, or, without good excuse, wilfully neglect or fail in the performance of any obligation enjoined by the Constitution, By-Laws or any standing rule of this Society: Provided, that such member shall have received at least ten days' notice in writing of the complaint preferred against him, and of the time and place for hearing the same, and have been thereby afforded an opportunity to be heard in person.

Whenever the cause of expulsion shall not have involved turpitude or moral unworthiness, any member thus expelled may, upon the unanimous recommendation of the Board of Managers, but not otherwise, be restored to membership by the Society at any meeting.

The Board of Managers shall drop from the Roll the name of any enrolled member of the Society who shall be two years in arrear in the payment of dues, and who, on notice to pay the same, shall fail and neglect to do so within thirty days thereafter, and upon being thus dropped, his membership shall cease and determine; but he may be restored to membership at any time by the Board of Managers, on his application therefor, and upon his payment of all such arrears and of the annual dues from the date when he was dropped to the date of his restoration. The Board of Managers may also suspend any officer from the performance of his duties, for cause; which proceeding must be reported to the Society and acted upon by it within thirty days, either by rescision of the suspension or removal of the suspended officer from office, or otherwise the suspension shall cease.

SECTION XV.

RESIGNATION.

No resignation or voluntary withdrawal from membership by any member enrolled in this Society shall become effective as a release from the obligations thereof, unless consented to and accepted by the Board of Managers.

SECTION XVI.

DISQUALIFICATION.

No person who may be enrolled as a member of this Society shall be permitted to continue in membership when the proofs of claim of qualification by descent shall be found to be defective and insufficient to substantiate such claim, or not properly authenticated. The Society, or the Board of Managers, may, at any time after thirty days' notice to such person to properly substantiate or authenticate his claim, require the Secretary to erase his name from the list of members, and such person shall thereupon cease to be a member; Provided, he shall have failed or neglected to comply satisfactorily with such notice.

Where the Board of Managers shall direct the erasure of a person's name for a cause comprehended under this section, such person shall have a right of appeal to the next annual meeting of the Society; but he shall not be restored to membership unless by a vote of three-fourths of the members present on that occasion, or at a subsequent meeting to which the consideration of the appeal may have been specifically postponed.

SECTION XVII.

SERVICE OF NOTICES.

It shall be the duty of every member to inform the Secretary, by written communication, of his place of residence, his post-office address, and of any change thereof.

Service of any notice under the Constitution or By-Laws upon any member of the Society, addressed to him at his last recorded place of residence or post-office address, and forwarded by mail, shall be deemed sufficient service of such notice.

SECTION XVIII.

NOMINATING COMMITTEE.

The Society may at the annual meeting choose a Nominating Committee of seven members to nominate officers and members of the Board of Managers for election at the succeeding annual meeting.

In case the Society shall not choose such a Committee, the President shall, prior to every annual meeting, appoint such Nominating Committee from among the members, exclusive of officers or members of the Board of Managers. The Nominating Committee shall select and nominate a ticket to fill the respective offices to be elected by ballot, which ticket shall be printed and distributed as the "regular ticket," by mailing one copy to each member of the Society at least five days prior to the ensuing annual election; but in order to secure as far as may be in the Board of Managers stability in procedure and familiarity with precedents in the business affairs of the Society, it shall be the duty of every Nominating Committee so to arrange their recommendations as to provide for the renomination annually of at least nine of the members of the Board of Management, so that not more than one-fourth of the entire number shall be changed at any election.

SECTION XIX.

ALTERATIONS OR AMENDMENTS.

No alteration or amendment of the By-Laws of the Society shall be made unless notice thereof shall be duly given in writing, signed by the member proposing the same at a meeting of the Society, and unless the same shall be adopted at a subsequent meeting, held at least thirty days after such notice by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

SECTION XX.

DELEGATES TO THE GENERAL SOCIETY.

Delegates to the General Society shall be chosen by the members of this Society at its meeting next preceding that of the General Society ; and, failing such choice, shall be selected by the Board of Managers.

In Memoriam.

GEORGE HUNTINGTON WILLIAMS.

The death of Mr. Williams occurred on July 12, 1894, at Utica, in the State of New York. The place of his death was also the place of his birth. He was born in Utica on January 28, 1856.

He was elected a member of this Society on November 29, 1893, by virtue of descent from George Doolittle, who after serving temporarily with Connecticut Troops in 1775 and 1777, enlisted in 1778 in the Connecticut Line, and served until the close of the War of the Revolution in the 6th and 4th Regiments—in the latter of which he held the position of Sergeant. He served in battles at New York, Long Island, White Plains, and Stony Point.

Mr. Williams was graduated at Amherst College in 1878. The following year he went to Germany where he remained for more than three years, pursuing courses of study in his chosen subject, geology, at Göttingen and Heidelberg. He also travelled in South-eastern Europe, studying geological formations. Returning to this country in 1882, with the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, conferred upon him by the University of Heidelberg, he was, in 1883, appointed to a Fellowship in the Johns Hopkins University; from that position he passed successively to those of Associate, and Associate Professor, and finally, in 1892, became Professor of Inorganic Geology in the same University.

Mr. Williams' habit of mind was pre-eminently scientific, and he was not only a well trained and thoroughly equipped scholar, but also an enthusiast in the department of science to which he was devoted.

The organization of the Department of Geology in the Johns Hopkins University was entrusted to him, and under his guidance it soon became one of the most useful and important in the University. He gathered about him a group of advanced and always interested students, who were warmly attached to him, and whom he inspired with his own zeal for investigation and precision in scientific methods. Although busily occupied in the classroom and the laboratory, his activity did not stop there. He was closely connected with the United States Geological Survey, and made both careful and extensive studies of Maryland geology. He made important investigations of the Cortlandt Series of the Hudson, and adjacent formations, and in 1884 and 1885 made observations upon the Greenstone schists in portions of Michigan.

During the summer of 1888, he was engaged, with a party of fellow scientists, including his former instructor, Professor Rosenbusch of Heidelberg, upon a geological survey in portions of Norway.

The results of Professor Williams' investigations have appeared in the publications of the United States Geological Survey, and also in the pages of numerous scientific journals. Possessing a ready pen, and a faculty of luminous expression, he was a frequent contributor to the literature of geology both in this country and in Europe. In recognition of his contributions to the advancement of science, he was honored with membership in many scientific societies both at home and abroad. He was a Corresponding Member of the Geological Society of London, and of the French Mineralogical Society, and one of the Vice-Presidents of the Geological Society of America. He was one of the Judges of Award in the Department of Mines and Mining at the World's Fair in Chicago.

He was profoundly interested in promoting the welfare of this his adopted State, and was Chairman of the Committee to which was entrusted by the World's Fair Commissioners of Maryland, the preparation for the Columbian Exposition of a volume in relation to the resources of the State. To this volume he was himself a most valuable contributor, the portions upon the geology and mineral resources of the State, and the admirable geological maps, being his work.

Into all his personal relations Mr. Williams carried the same sincerity that was manifested in his scientific work, and which was a most conspicuous characteristic of the man. He had a bright and sanguine disposition, such as it is good to meet, and was both an agreeable companion and a true friend. In him his students found both teacher and friend, and between him and them there was formed a close bond of sympathy which remained unbroken after the relations of teacher and pupil had ceased.

After the close of the academic year in June, 1894, with an energy which far outran his physical strength which was never great, he went out with a party of students to pursue geological investigations in the western part of Maryland. He was shortly afterwards seized with typhoid fever, caused, it was supposed, by drinking the water from a contaminated well, while on this expedition; and one month later, this life already so full of achievement and apparently so much more full of promise, succumbed to that fatal disease.

EDWARD GRAHAM DAVES.

Mr. Daves was born in New Berne, North Carolina, March 31, 1833. He died in Boston, after a few days illness, on August 1st, 1894. He was one of the original members of this Society, in the formation of which he took a deep and active interest. He was second in descent from Captain John Daves, who after serving successively as Quarter-Master, Ensign and Lieutenant in the 2d Continental Regiment, North Carolina Troops, was in 1781 commissioned Captain in the 3d Regiment, in which he served until the close of the War of the Revolution; and fourth in descent from William Eaton, who after serving as a member of the Committee of Safety of the Halifax District of North Carolina in 1775, was in 1776 made Lieutenant-Colonel, and afterwards Colonel, of the Northampton County Militia.

Mr. Daves entered Harvard College in 1850, and received the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1854, and that of Bachelor of Laws in 1856. Shortly afterwards he came to Baltimore, and reading law in the office of Messrs. Brown & Brune, was admitted to the Bar. During the same year (1856) he was appointed Professor of Greek in Trinity College, Hartford, where he remained five years, receiving from that College in 1857 the honorary degree of Master of Arts, which degree he also received the same year, in course, from his Alma Mater, Harvard College.

In 1861 Mr. Daves went to Europe, and after attending lectures at the University of Bonn, established and conducted a school for American boys at Vevay in Switzerland.

In 1871 he returned to this country, and shortly thereafter established his residence in Baltimore and devoted himself to teaching History and English Literature. He conducted classes in these branches in several private schools, and so highly was he esteemed as a teacher, that a number of classes were formed among those whom he had taught during their school days, and who wished to continue their studies, in maturer years, under his direction. To an intimate knowledge of English Literature, he added a keen appreciation of the beautiful in thought and expression, and a highly developed critical faculty. He possessed above all things, the gift of teaching, and was always able to awaken the interest of those whom he taught, and impart to them some degree of his own unfailing enthusiasm. An untiring student himself, during the last twenty years of his life, while from year to year he led successive classes over practically the same fields of reading and study, he never allowed himself to drop into the easy habit of merely repeating a well-worn syllabus of lectures, but was ever ready and alert with new and suggestive thoughts and criticisms. The high praise has been awarded him, by those best competent to know and judge, that as a student he continued to develop to the very end of his life, and that as a teacher his last year was his best.

During the last few years of his life, he took much interest in matters connected with the Colonial and Revolutionary history of this country, an interest which was evinced in many ways. He was active in the organization of an association for the purchase and suitable preservation of Roanoke Island, the site of Sir Walter Raleigh's first settlement in Virginia, but now a part of North Carolina; and he was chiefly instrumental in securing, with the aid of members of the Maryland Historical Society, the erection of a monument in commemoration of the Maryland Soldiers who fell at the Battle of Guilford Court House. At the dedication of that monument, he delivered a most interesting address, which was afterwards read with some modifications, rendered necessary by change of time and place, before the Maryland Historical Society, and published by that Society.

As has been already mentioned, Mr. Daves took an active interest in the formation of the Maryland Society of the Sons of the Revolution, and was one of its original members. He was also a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, and it may be added, the only Maryland member of that Society who took part in the formation of this Society. He was one of the delegates from this Society to the meetings of the General Society of the Sons of the Revolution.

Mr. Daves was a man of unfailing courtesy of manner and genuine kindness of heart. He was at the same time retiring in his disposition, and it is not unlikely that his many admirable qualities are in fact best known only to those who were his pupils, and who owe to him the awakening and development in them of a taste for, and appreciation of, all that is best in literature.

JAMES A. BUCHANAN.

Mr. Buchanan was born in Baltimore, December 28th, 1828; he died suddenly, of heart failure, on January 24th, 1895, at his late home, on Staten Island, New York.

Mr. Buchanan was one of the original members of this Society, and one of its delegates to the General Society of the Sons of the Revolution. Although New York had been the place of his residence for the last ten years, he maintained his interest in and identity with this city, the place of his birth, and sought membership in the Society of the Sons of the Revolution through the organization formed in his native State. He was third in descent from William Buchanan, who was a member of the Committee of Safety of Baltimore Town, 1774-6; member of the Maryland Provincial Council, 1774-5; Captain, and afterwards Colonel, of the Baltimore Battalion of Militia in 1776; Deputy Commissary-General, and then Commissary-General, for the purchase of supplies for the Continental Army, in 1777.

Mr. Buchanan read law in the office of Messrs. Brown & Brune, and was admitted to the Bar in 1852. In 1858 he removed to Davenport, Iowa, where he engaged in the practice of his profession, and also in the editing of one of the leading western Democratic papers of that time. He afterwards went to St. Louis and practised law in that city. In 1864 he returned to Baltimore and resumed the practice of law in his native city. In 1869 he became of Counsel to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, and was connected with the legal department of the Company until January, 1885, when Mr. John King, Jr., formerly one of the Vice-Presidents of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, having been elected President of the Erie Railway, he invited Mr. Buchanan to come to New York and accept the position of General Counsel for that Company. From that time New York was the place of his residence.

Mr. Buchanan's energies were chiefly devoted to the practice of his profession. He was recognized as a wise and experienced Counsellor, unfailingly faithful and diligent in the care of the interests committed to his charge. He was noted for the painstaking care with which he studied the cases in which he was engaged, and prepared them for trial.

He held public place but twice. In his younger days he was assistant to the late Hon. C. J. M. Gwinn, when the latter was State's Attorney,—or rather, as the office was then called, Assistant Attorney-General,—for Baltimore; and later, in the year 1876, he was appointed by Mayor Latrobe, of Baltimore, to the office of City Counsellor, which position he held for two years.

In social life Mr. Buchanan was known as a man of warm and generous nature, and unwavering in his friendships. Of frank and genial manners, he attracted men to him, and easily made friends. By those who had the privilege of his intimate acquaintance, he is remembered with warm affection as a most valued companion, always abounding in good humor, and an admirable teller of good stories. His memory, which was remarkable, supplied him with many entertaining reminiscences of the older generation of lawyers who adorned and made famous the Maryland Bar. But beyond these attractive social qualities, Mr. Buchanan's character was specially distinguished for the warmth, sincerity, and tenacity of his friendships. Through good fortune or ill fortune his friendship never wavered, and no one was ever more ready than he to do a kindness, or to stretch out a helping hand.

He was a good lawyer, and a genial companion; but above all things a true and faithful friend.

THE COUNCIL OF SAFETY OF MARYLAND.

“The Council of Safety of Maryland” was constituted by the following resolution of the Convention of July 26 to August 14, 1775, passed on Monday, August 14. “And Whereas it is absolutely necessary in this Time of imminent danger, that there should be some power existing which may superintend the execution of the orders and regulations of the Convention, and occasionally from time to time promote the prudent and necessary preparations for defence, and in case of necessity call forth a due proportion, or even the whole of the Force of the Province in an orderly and regular manner, whereby the strength of the whole will be greatly increased in the common defence, and the Rights and Liberties of all better secured. Resolved, That sixteen persons, eight of whom residing on the Western and eight on the Eastern Shore, shall be chosen by Ballot, by this Convention, and be stiled and denominated The Council of Safety of Maryland.”

The Convention of December 7, 1775 to January 18, 1776, reduced the number to seven; the Convention of May 8-25, 1776, increased the number to nine, and all the following Conventions retained the same number.

The names of the members are given in each case in the order in which they appear in the Journals of the Conventions.

CONVENTION OF AUGUST 14 TO NOVEMBER 11, 1776.

The Delegates to this Convention were elected by the people on August 1, 1776, in pursuance of the following resolution, passed on July 3, by the Convention of June 21 to July 6, 1776: "Resolved, That a new Convention be elected for the express purpose of forming a new Government by the authority of the People only, and enacting and ordering all things for the preservation, safety, and general weal of this Colony."

The Convention met on August 14 and sat until September 17, when it adjourned until September 30, but for want of a quorum the sessions were not resumed until October 2. From that day until November 11, when it adjourned, the Convention met regularly.

On August 27, Charles Carroll, Barrister, and Samuel Chase, two members of the "Committee to prepare a Declaration and Charter of Rights, and a form of Government for this State," resigned their seats as Delegates because they had received "instructions from their constituents enjoining them, in framing of a Government for this State, implicitly to adhere to points in their opinion incompatible with good government and the publick peace and happiness," and on the same day Mr. Plater reported from that Committee the "Declaration and Charter of Rights," and on September 10 he reported the "Constitution and form of Government."

Before the adjournment on September 17, printed copies of the Declaration and Constitution were ordered to be sent to each County "for the consideration of the people at large," and the Convention, after reassembling, having considered the same by paragraphs and making many changes, adopted the Declaration on November 3 and the Constitution on November 8. Neither of these documents was submitted to the people for their approval, but went into force by virtue of their own provisions.

DELEGATES FROM MARYLAND TO THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS

FROM JUNE 22d, 1774, UNTIL THE ASSEMBLING OF CONGRESS UNDER THE PRESENT CONSTITUTION IN 1789.

The Delegates from Maryland to the Continental Congress were elected by the several Conventions, beginning with the one of June 22d, 1774, until the State government was formed, and after that date by the joint ballot of the Senate and House of Delegates.

It was found impossible to make a complete list of those who attended in Congress and of those who did not, and therefore nothing more has been attempted than to designate (by an asterisk) those Delegates of whom it can be said with certainty that they attended.

The names are printed in the order in which they appear in the Journals of the Convention and General Assembly.

Elected on June 22, 1774.
